The link between weaving and representations of letters on a computer screen can be seen very clearly by looking at how the weavers of Lyons wove words into their designs.

James Essinger